

Academic Resource Guide

Perimeter College Campus

Learning and Tutoring Center

Students should consult with a tutor in mathematics, reading, writing, science, and more. In addition to face-to-face tutoring services, LTCs provide a variety of other services and resources to accommodate student needs.

Go to <http://success.students.gsu.edu/learning-tutoring-center/> for locations and hours.

Supplemental Instruction

Supplementary Instruction is a free academic assistance program that uses peer-led study groups to help students in traditionally difficult courses – those with low completion rates (D's, F's, and W's).

Supplemental Instruction Leaders are current Georgia State students who excelled in the course to which they are assigned. They attend the lecture along with the students and prepare activity-based sessions that correspond with the material covered in class. Supplemental Instruction sessions are informal, peer-led study sessions that provide students with an opportunity to not only engage with each other while re-enforcing course material, but also acquire valuable study strategies.

Find more information at <http://success.students.gsu.edu/supplemental-instruction/>.

Academic Advising

Students should meet with an academic advisor if they have any questions regarding their courses, pathways selection, or progress. Advisors can also help students with general success skills.

Go to <http://advisement.gsu.edu/self-service/advisement-community-page/> for locations and hours.